

Apply To Attend A Military Academy

Musgrave announces Colorado Academy Information Day

Washington, DC: Today, Congresswoman Marilyn Musgrave (CO-04) announced the Fourth Annual Colorado Academy Information Day and encouraged high school students interested in attending a United States military service academy to attend on April 26, 2003. Students can meet representatives from the five academies and learn about the nomination process.

"During this period of military action in the Middle East, high school students are becoming increasingly aware of the vital importance the nation's military serves," said Musgrave. "Receiving a nomination to attend any one of the academies is a top honor, and a very exciting opportunity to serve the country."

Colorado Academy Information Day will be held at the Denver Museum of Natural Science Ricketsen Auditorium at the West Entrance on Saturday, April 26, 2003, from 1:00pm to 4:00pm. Representatives from the Air Force Academy, Naval Academy, Military Academy at West Point, Merchant Marine Academy and the Coast Guard Academy will all be available to meet interested candidates for an academy nomination.

As a Representative in the U.S.

Congress, Musgrave has the privilege of nominating outstanding high school students from around the Fourth District of Colorado to attend service academies. In order to be considered as a candidate, students must meet the specific qualifications and submit an application to the Congresswoman any time from January of their junior year through September of their senior year in high school. To learn more about the process, please attend the Academy Information Day as well as visit the "Helping Coloradan's" link on Musgrave's official web page at www.house.gov/musgrave.

"As a mother of a serviceman, I encourage students to attend the Academy Information Day and learn more about attending one of the schools," said Musgrave.
